Asset protection and secure transport Including fine art & jewellery

Dear Client or Client Representative,

BlackTor provides discreet asset protection and secure transport coordination for high-value or sensitive items, including fine art and jewellery. We support private clients, businesses and their representatives with collections and deliveries across the South West and throughout the UK.

From purchases and consignments to transfers between business premises, storage facilities and private residences, we coordinate the movement with the client's appointed transport and handling specialists. We can provide discreet accompaniment during transit where agreed.

Before collection, we confirm the collection and delivery points, authorised contacts and handover requirements. We liaise with the appointed providers on packing, specialist handling and insurance arrangements, and can oversee handover to the client or their nominated representative.

We can also accompany clients to private viewings, jewellery appointments and auctions. If you have a single item to move or a series of collections and deliveries to arrange, I'd welcome a confidential conversation.

Kind regards,
James Charlesworth
